

Kim Atkinson and Danielle Davis invite you to the official launch of

The Images of Learning Project

This exhibit is a focal point for dialogue and reflection on the latest international research on early learning.

The project highlights how children research their world and communicate their learning, and it delivers a strong visual and philosophical message that makes visible the work of early childhood educators in British Columbia.

Please join us for light refreshments to celebrate the project and honour the sponsors and contributors
